"While we still encourage social distancing and safe shopping, we look forward to marking number 18 both onsite and online. We'll go live periodically on Instagram LIVE [@GasLampAntiques] to display antiques, mid-century items, jewelry and more," said Lauren H. Bugg, CEO of GasLamp Antiques and GasLamp Too. "Both stores will be giving away gift cards, as well as providing our remote shoppers opportunities to win!"

Spanning nearly an acre, the GasLamp stores are home to 250+ dealers with booths and showcases throughout "Nashville's Best Antique Store" as voted by Nashville Scene, The Tennessean and Greater Nashville House & Home readers.

GasLamp Antiques and GasLamp Too are open daily from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday

RECIPE
Spring Glow Angel Cake

- 1 pkg. angel food cake mix
- 1 (no. 2) can peach pie filling
- 1 pkg. vanilla pudding mix
- 1 c. heavy cream, whipped
- 2 c. milk

Prepare cake mix according to package directions. Bake in a 10-inch tube pan. Cool and remove from pan. Place on tray. Slice entire top from cake about an inch from the top. Hollow out center of cake, leaving about an inch base and sides. Prepare pudding mix using 2 cups of milk. Mix half the pie filling with pudding. Spoon into cavity of the cake. Replace top of cake. Fold in remaining pie filling into whipped cream. Frost cake with this mixture. Chill until ready to serve.

RECIPE: Buffalo Salad with Shoestring Fried Onions

1 large boneless skinless chicken breast
 3/4 cup buttermilk • 1/2 cup panko bread crumbs
 1/2 cup yellow cornmeal divided
 1/2 cup buffalo wing sauce (I like Moore's)
 1 small onion peeled and thinly sliced into rings
 1/4 cup all purpose flour • 1 t. kosher salt • 1/2 t. pepper
 Vegetable oil for frying
 4 cups chopped mixed lettuces (such as romaine spinach, etc.)
 1 roma tomato sliced • 1/2 avocado sliced
 1/4 cup shredded mozzarella

Dressing:
 1/2 cup plain yogurt • 3 T light mayo • 2 T buttermilk
 1 T fresh parsley • 1/2 t. dill weed • 1/2 t. onion powder
 1/2 t. garlic powder • 1/2 t. salt • 1/4 t. pepper • 1 t. lemon juice

Preheat the oven to 425 degrees. Slice the chicken breast into 4 strips. Submerge the chicken in the buttermilk, making sure to coat. In a shallow dish, mix together 1/4 cup of the cornmeal and the panko bread crumbs and season with 1 t. salt and 1/4 t. pepper. Coat each chicken strip in the bread crumb mixture and place them onto a greased baking sheet. Spray the strips liberally with cooking spray and bake for 10 minutes, turning halfway through, until chicken reaches 165 degrees.

Meanwhile, in a shallow dish mix together the remaining cornmeal, flour and 1/2 t. salt and 1/4 t. pepper. Toss the onion slices in the flour mixture, making sure to separate the rings as you toss. Heat about 1/2 an inch of vegetable oil in a skillet until the oil shimmers. Add the onions to the oil and fry until golden brown, about 7 minutes. Remove with a slotted spoon and drain on paper towels.

Combine all of the dressing ingredients in a blender or food processor and blend until smooth. Taste and adjust seasonings if necessary.

In two large bowls, divide the lettuce mix, top with tomatoes, avocado and mozzarella cheese. Place 2 chicken strips on top of lettuce bed and top each with fried onions. Serve with dressing on top!

PERENNIAL PLANT SALE IS LIVE AGAIN IN 2022

Once again, on Saturday, April 9, 2022, the Nashville Fairgrounds will be overflowing with hundreds of locally grown perennials and shrubs, thanks to the 30th annual Perennial Plant Society Plant Sale. The sale, which for the last two years has been conducted online, will open its doors to in-person shopping starting at 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. Arrive by 8 a.m. for a good spot in line.

"We are so excited to welcome Middle Tennessee gardeners back to see, and smell, and buy all the amazing flowers and shrubs we have selected from our local growers," says PPS Plant Acquisition's Co-hair Mickey Newman. "Lots of our Perennial Plant Society members will be on hand to greet our loyal customers and offer advice on the best plants for their gardens." A preliminary list of available plants will be available on the Perennial Plant website (www.ppsmtn.org) in late January 2022.

This year's sale will take place at the Fairground's new Expo 3 building. The larger, light-filled space will give shoppers more room to see all the great plants. Bigger aisles will also allow customer to bring carts to carry more plants. The new layout also features a curbside Concierge pick up option for orders.

Profits from the sale fund horticultural scholarships at local colleges as well as PPS education programs, which are free to the public. Go to ppsmtn.org to learn more about upcoming in-person and Zoom meetings.

So whether you're longing for a old garden favorite or craving the latest exotic cultivar, you'll find the best prices and the largest local selection at the April 9 Perennial Plant Society Sale. Admission is free; Metro charges $5 for parking.

Come Back and Smell the Flowers!

Background: The Perennial Plant Society of Middle Tennessee promotes the use of perennial plants in the landscape and offers education to local gardeners and scholarships to area horticulture students. The annual plant sale is the group's major source of funding for these activities. The group holds free monthly education meetings, which are open to the public. It also offers garden tours to members. For more information, visit www.ppsmtn.org.

BAXTER'S MERCANTILE MOVES TO NEW LOCATION

Baxter's Mercantile of Columbia owners, Phil Baxter and Scott Williams, are pleased to announce that they are now open in their new location at 808 S. Garden Street, Columbia, Tenn. Nestled in the heart of downtown Columbia, Baxter's Mercantile of Columbia features over 40 unique shops. The new building, the historic DuBois building, spans over 6,000 square feet and two levels, and is less than one block away from the former location. Baxter's Mercantile of Columbia is surrounded by all of the glowing historic sites well known in Columbia, and their new location is in one of the oldest buildings in downtown Columbia, Tenn. The new store location buildings date back to 1920 and 1860 respectively.

At one time, this was where law offices operated for many decades, and once served as a stable and a bank in the 1800s.

Baxter's Mercantile is most certainly a one-stop shopping experience, and those who shop here will be reminded of the senses of a mall. The store offers a large, diversified, and unique array of items. Our shops include: home decor, several clothing and accessory boutiques, antiques, personalized and handcrafted items, large selection of furniture, high quality paint selection, gourmet foods, and a maximized scale of local artists.

We would like to invite everyone to attend our grand opening and ribbon cutting ceremony on March 4 at 3:30 p.m. Our official grand opening will take place March 4 and 5, leading into Columbia's famous First Friday! However, keep in mind that we are open now! Store Hours: Monday-Thursday 10-5, Friday-Saturday 10-7, Sunday 12-5. We are always open late on First Friday's in Downtown Columbia! We want to genuinely thank all of our loyal customers, and welcome everyone to our new, expanded, exquisite, and upgraded experience! Everyone can still locate their most valued treasures, and so much more!

4TH FRIDAY FEST STARTS MARCH 25TH

Danielle Armbruster, Shelbyville, TN

There have certainly been a lot of changes happening on the historic square in Shelbyville, TN recently. New sidewalks, new lamp posts, and a whole new traffic pattern have all been impacting the way locals and tourists experience a day on the square. There is one thing, however, that has not changed—the sense of community. Shelbyville, TN is full of amazing business owners who have so much pride in this small town. It is evident as you walk through the shops, dine at the local restaurants, and attend community events.

As the weather begins to shift to sunnier skies and warmer temperatures, all of the fun community-based events around town will be springing back to life—starting with 4th Friday Fest. 4th Friday Fest was started in 2021 by Calvin Cannon of Torso and Danielle Armbruster of The Shops at Main & McGrew. They had been wanting a laid back, community-focused event that was regularly scheduled and gave people in town “something to look forward to” each month. 4th Friday Fest features food trucks, local artists, local farmers, tradesmen, and more, with the lineup changing each month. There are also family-oriented games, coloring sheets for kids, and a scavenger hunt around the square! It is a great time for the whole family.

4th Friday Fest will be kicking off for 2022 in March. Come on out to the Shelbyville square on the 4th Friday of March (the 25th) from 5:00-8:00pm. Get some dinner at one of many awesome local food trucks and spend some time with the community.

For the Love (and Luck) of the Irish

by Terry Lea, Re-Invintage, Murfreesboro, TN

St. Patrick's Day isn't as big of a celebration in the South as in other parts of the world, but most of us do wear a bit of green on March 17 - maybe for luck, and maybe to avoid getting pinched. This early springtime holiday seems like the perfect time to add a bit of green to our homes as well, doesn't it?

Most of us know the basic history of March 17: St. Patrick was a 5th century Romano-British Christian missionary and Bishop in Ireland. By the 7th century he was acknowledged as the patron saint of Ireland and March 17 is the widely accepted date of his death, when we recognize him and Ireland with a celebration that typically includes green...shamrocks, leprechauns, clothing, beer, and more. So what can we do to incorporate vintage elements on St. Patrick's Day?

1. Salt and Pepper

Figurine-Style Shakers

We can credit the 20th century with countless pairs of novelty salt and pepper shakers in all shapes and sizes, including all things Irish. Here are a few samples of what you may find in estate sales, thrift stores, auctions and antique stores (if you're lucky.) Can't find any of these sweet vintage figurines? You're in luck - there are several manufacturers still making kitschy retro-inspired sets; you'll find them in department stores or online. Care for them as any other vintage ceramics - handwash when needed and allow to air dry; store them out of direct sunlight to avoid fading.

2. Irish Linens

For something a little more subtle and refined, how about some Irish linens or lace as a tip o' the hat to the fair isle? Irish linen has long been held in high regard. Spun and woven from 100% flax fibers for thousands of years, Irish linen production became more organized by the 15th century. Nowadays, it is often associated with damask patterns woven into the fabric crated into tablecloths, napkins, runners and towels. Irish linen is typically coarser and denser than other European linens, and is coveted for making breathable, and high-quality summer clothing.

You may also find Irish lace on vintage table linens. Popularized in the 1850s, it was often hand-made at home and in workhouses by women and children in Ireland, to adorn wedding and christening gowns of wealthy Europeans.

It's important to care for your vintage linens properly: wash by hand or on a gentle cycle and allow them to line-dry, then press it while it's damp to crisp perfection; avoid using starch unless you're going to use them and re-wash them immediately. Store out of direct sunlight and in dry conditions to avoid mildew.

3. Pops of Green In Your Home

If you're looking for some green with more "staying power" than leprechauns and shamrocks, you can just add some pops of spring green here and there in your decor. Rich green soda bottles make great vases or decor; a boxwood wreath adds just the right pop of green color, and will last well into the warm months ahead. Soft vintage planters (empty or filled with a favorite houseplant) can also strike just the right note as we welcome spring into our homes.

On dining tables, we're longtime fans of Majolica dishes and we home in on any green and white textured plates, bowls and vases anytime we find them in the wild.

4. Vintage Jewelry

If you want to avoid the dreaded pinching on March 17, look for a vintage piece of jewelry to add the requisite green to your attire. Snag a charming cloisonné enamel pin or pendant for a necklace, or splurge on something with jade or an emerald. If you're truly fortunate, you'll luck up on a 4-leaf clover sealed forever to wear on a necklace or charm bracelet.

No matter what you do, be sure you do something that will bring you a bit of good fortune and welcome Spring this month!

RECIPE: Spring Parmesan Pasta

- 1 pound corkscrew shaped pasta
- 4 slices bacon , chopped
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 medium onion , minced
- 1 pound fresh swiss chard or spinach
- 2 cups fresh peas , or 1-10 oz. bag frozen peas
- ½ cup finely shredded Parmesan cheese

Bring a large pot of salted water to boil and cook the pasta per the package directions. Drain the pasta but reserve 1 cup of the cooking water for the sauce.

While the pasta is cooking, heat a very large skillet or heavy wide pot over medium to medium high heat and add the bacon to the pan. Cook the bacon until it is crisp and remove it to some paper towels to drain.

Add the butter to the bacon grease in the pan and then add in the onion. While the onion is cooking, remove the stems from the Swiss chard, and then chop the leaves and the stems separately. Add the stems to the pan with the onion and cook for 3-4 minutes or until the onion and the Swiss chard stems begin to soften. Add in the green leaves and the peas and continue to cook, over medium heat until the greens have wilted and the peas are tender, another 3-5 minutes.

Add the bacon, Parmesan and pasta to the pan and stir to combine everything loosely together. Add in about ½ of the pasta water to the pan and continue to stir until a creamy sauce forms. If the pasta still seems a little dry, add the remaining pasta water. Sprinkle with more cheese and serve immediately.

Tip: Swiss Chard is my favorite of the leafy greens and comes with a crisp stem that is similar in texture to celery. Unlike other greens, this stem is delicious to eat!

VISIT SHOP ON MAIN IN OOLTEWAH!

By Maxine B Jones, Ocoee, Tennessee

Deanna Hancock, owner of Shop on Main in Ooltewah, Tenn., invites you to visit her new antique and vintage shop located at 5722 Main Street. Deanna opened Shop on Main Oct. 1, 2021, and is enjoying a dream come true. Deanna's love for antiques and vintage furniture and decor has often sent her on fun excursions hunting for treasures in antique shops and estate sales. She told me her unique finds kept her busy decorating and redecorating her own home. When she found new antique pieces of furniture, she most always brought home selections of art work and decorative smalls too - some old and vintage, some new, and would move them often till she could see the visual image she was getting as she found each piece.

You can check her page on Pinterest where she often puts her vision for her selections in a room layout. Deanna has natural gift for staging beautiful spaces; she loves lots of color added to antiques and vintage. She likes to find antiques with a story, adds beautiful colors of pretty decor and vintage items, forming a great eclectic mix.

Deanna has something for everyone. She is very selective on gift items, and tries to find higher-end specialty items. She has jewelry, Hobo Handbags, Lux Candles, and Park Hill and Aromatic candles. You'll find mugs and small knick knacks, too.

Shop on Main has approximately 2,400 square feet of antiques, gifts and decor with an expansion in the making. Once you visit Shop on Main, you will put it on your list to check often; their unique and special selections move to new homes very quickly. If you're looking for a special piece of furniture, be sure to measure your space - height, width and depth - so you can take that special piece home with you. There's a nice variety of bedroom sets, dining tables with hutches, end tables, writing tables, desks, armoires and other pieces in natural and finished wood. She has an eye for beautiful lamps, lanterns and chandeliers; add those to the great selection of pillows, china and everyday dishware, greenery, candles, mirrors, and beautiful large wall art and framed art. There's fine antique sofas and a wonderful mix of chairs in all sizes and styles. Deanna looks for lots of furniture, especially large and massive pieces that are not only hard to find, but the buyer has to have that unique space to place them once they take them home. One such piece is primitive and from the Civil War Era. Oh, the stories these antiques could tell! You too, will fall in love with all the pretty things here.

Deanna was the manager of her dad's family business, located next door, called Ooltewah Manufacturing, where they specialize in making automotive component parts for seats and seat coverings for large trucks and military vehicles. She has loved being a part of their family's long-time business, and after some 12 years, she came up with a plan to open a retail store to sell some of her favorite finds in the antique and decor line. When the attached shop next door became available, she got the help of her dad, Jerry, her son TJ, and her friend Keith and his children to start moving all her finds and helping her to stage and decorate, and on Oct. 1, 2021, her new adventure, Shop on Main began.

Deanna said phase two of her store will be ready this spring, and she will have 8 to 10 booths available for vendors. Watch her Instagram page Shop_on_Main for the date. Shop on Main is located four tenths of a mile from the intersection of Hwy 11 and Main Street in Ooltewah. If you are coming south on Hwy. 11, (South Lee Hwy) from Cleveland, Tenn., take a left at the first traffic light & main intersection, (just past Hobson's Antiques), go .4 mile on left, next door to Memphis BBQ. If you're on I-75, take Exit 11, third traffic light - turn right and .4 miles to store on left. Be sure to tell Deanna that you read about Shop on Main in the Busy Bee Trader.

LET'S CELEBRATE WITH SWEETWATER MARKET AT THE MILL

Maxine B Jones, Ocoee, TN

It has been one year since Sweetwater Market at the Mill in Downtown Sweetwater, Tennessee welcomed new owners, Bill and Shelly Green. A new set of plans were put into place, new expansions began to take shape, and this huge building took on a beautiful new look with over fifty vendors filling some 100 booths with fabulous merchandise.

On March 19th, Sweetwater Market at the Mill will open doors at 10am, and at noon, a huge appreciation celebration and First Anniversary Open House will kick off. There will be food, door prizes, lots of sales and some special entertainment. It will last till closing at 5pm, so you'll have plenty of time to browse through this great market with booths filled from wall to wall.

There's something for everyone, no matter your age. Some vendors specialize in antiques and vintage, others in farmhouse decor, while you'll also find some beautiful lodge and primitive country selections. There's signage and tools for men, apparel for ladies and children, beautiful floral wreaths and arrangements; furniture of different eras, including traditional, mid century modern, primitive and more. There's food vendors - be sure to grab you a jar of peaches - my favorite. You'll find honey, relish, BBQ sauces, dill pickles, pickled okra and jellies. Ladies, make sure you check out the lovely jewelry, both hand designed and vintage; special and super scented candles from Thompson's Candle Company; and don't miss the line of Goat Milk lotions from Just Kiddin Ewe Farms, LLC. There's new and vintage quilts, lots of smalls and decor and you'll find Easter and spring decor, too. The huge variety of great quality merchandise in one location couldn't be better.

Sweetwater Market at the Mill is located at 800 North Main Street, just a few yards north of the Sweetwater Post Office. For questions regarding booths, call 423-836-9497. If Bill or Shelly are unavailable, one of their great staff will be glad to help you. Mark your calendar, call some friends and plan to celebrate Saturday, March 19th at Sweetwater Market at the Mill. Bill & Shelly and their staff wish to thank everyone for a successful first year and look forward to serving you and bringing more great selections for your shopping enjoyment.

RECIPE: Pimento Cheese Tomato Pie

- 2 large, ripe tomatoes (any color will work)
- salt
- crust for single crust pie
- 1 1/2 cups pimento cheese
- basil leaves (optional)

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Line a large plate with several layers of paper towels. Slice the tomatoes into 1/8-inch thick rounds. Salt one side of the tomato slices and spread them on a single layer on top of the paper towels. Salt the other side. Let the tomatoes stand for fifteen minutes then flip them over and allow to stand for an additional fifteen minutes. While the tomatoes are draining, par-bake the pie crust. Roll the crust into a 12-inch circle and press into a 9-inch pie plate or deep dish tart pan, crimping the edges if using a pie plate. Line with foil and fill with pie weights or dry beans. Bake for ten minutes. After the tomatoes have drained for 30 minutes, gently press a paper towel on top to remove any excess moisture on top. Spread 1/2 cup of pimento cheese in the bottom of the pie crust. Top that with half of the tomato slices, then another half cup of the pimento cheese, the remaining tomatoes, and the remaining pimento cheese. Bake the pie for 25-35 minutes, until the crust is golden and the cheese is lightly browned and bubbly. Top with desired amount of torn basil, if desired. Allow to stand for ten minutes before slicing and serving.
