LETTER FROM THE PUBLISHER

Hello readers! I'm so happy to see Spring arrive - just not the crazy spring weather!! The tulip beds that I created this winter, along with help from visiting family, are blooming and showing off. The bed of red tulips is especially pretty right now, with the American flag and whisky barrel swing Wally made me hanging in the background for photos!

Three huge century old oak and maple trees fell over from the hurricane-force winds (76 mph here) we had last month, with the giant oak crushing our historic smoke house. Our farm family had just installed our new farm chicks inside of it the day before in a big metal water trough, and miraculously, only one was killed from the tree! So they have been living in the Roost (our little farm house) with the farm family until the chicken coop renovation has been completed. They picked out a mix of good laying breeds, and I can't wait to have fresh eggs again!

In this issue, we've got lots of great events for you to attend, and our advertisers have their businesses full of spring and Easter offerings.

Plan on advertising your spring and summer events with us in upcoming issues! We welcome your chamber and community events, farmers markets and farm stores, and other seasonal happenings, along with our usual antiques, boutiques, flea markets and anything destination worthy!

If you are planning to travel this year, whether around the U.S. or to Europe, visit my travel blog page at www.busybeetraveler.wordpress.com for lots of inspiration and planning help. You can search destinations under the menu under "Blog archives by title" or use the "Search" with a name.

Until next month...

400MILE.COM - YOUR TREASURE MAP TO THE BIG SALE

At the 400 Mile Sale, June 1-4, we guarantee you'll Discover Highway 68 Treasures, and not just at the barn sales, yard sales, and sidewalk sales, but in the small towns, local diners, and country stores. The places you visit and people you meet are unique gems. The items you buy will spark memories and priceless conversations for years to come. Keep reading, and we'll share with you the secret to finding exactly what you are looking for!

Wouldn't it be great to have a secret decoder ring or a treasure map to the 400 Mile Sale? Something where X marks the spot for you, whether you are seeking antiques, furniture, vintage toys, unique decor or sports memorabilia. Imagine, no more crane-necking while you drive slowly past and no longer getting out of your vehicle to look left and then right and retreat back inside, driving off disappointed.

Most folks are looking for three things on the 400 Mile Sale. 1. Easily find your most desired items 2. Discover hidden gems with food you'll not soon forget 3. Find a comfortable night's stay "We believe the new 400mile.com will accommodate all your goals in one convenient and easy to use location!" beams Director Tara Hall. "Thanks to our wonderful partners across the Bluegrass State, I was able to make a refreshed and redesigned 400mile.com my highest priority in 2022. It IS your treasure map to the 400 Mile Sale."

The site will see new improvements this year including a print option. The main sections of 400mile.com are explained below:

Map My Route: Probably the hardest part of planning these type of trips is figuring out where the sales are! We solved this problem by using sellers free listings to create an actual map of the entire route and surrounding sales. "Map My Route" can also filter by the city, county or region and reveal all that is near you. But that wasn't enough for us! We wanted to help you find ONLY what you really seek, so website designer Blue Guru Marketing developed a search function based on familiar categories. You can sort a personalized map based only the points that have your favorite items - like Antiques. What if you have only one or two days you can spend on the sale? You bet that you can sort your map by day as well! We tried to think of everything for "Map My Route."

Search the Sales: This menu option allows you to see a listing of all the sales in a particular area including the categories of available items. If you have ever wanted to pack up the truck and be a vendor on the 400 Mile Sale, our multisite listings contain vendor fees and contact information for all our sponsored counties.

Eat, Drink and Sleep: These pages are the most necessary next to the sales. We urge you to patronize these businesses as their county agencies sponsor your 400 Mile Sale experience. Without them, none of this would be possible! We have highlighted unique dining experiences, coffee shops, and accommodations along the route. The Tourism Commission and local Chamber of Commerce links are at the bottom of each county's page providing even more information at your fingertips.

We know you will have a big time travelling the 400 Mile Sale thanks to 400mile.com. Please tag us on your favorite social media platform #400milesale so we can see what fun you have! Director Tara Hall can be reached at 400mile-sale68@gmail.com or 859-516-2520. She is happy to help anyone Discover Highway 68 Treasures on the 400 Mile Sale, June 1-4, 2023. ## WORLD'S BIGGEST FISH FRY

The World's Biggest Fish Fry, taking place April 22-29, is a premier event for Paris - Henry County and West Tennessee. The last full week of April annually attracts people locally as well as nationally. Visitors come from across the country to enjoy the festivities.

The whole festival revolves around the "Fish Tent" where by last account over 12,500 pounds of catfish is served with all the trimmings. In addition to all you can eat catfish you will find parades, carnival, rodeos, catfish races, dances, arts and crafts to name a few. Events actually begin early in February with beauty pageants leading up to the week long celebration.

For the Love of Old Time Pieces

by Terry Lea, Murfreesboro, Tennessee

Time has sprung forward again...but how do you keep time? Most of us rely on a phone or other digital device to tell us what time it is, but what about the time-keepers of old? From sundials and hour glasses to wind-up clocks, we've kept track of time without technology for...well, for a long time.

The passing of time has been measured and marked by many devices, starting with ancient sundials that appeared in Egypt and Mesopotamia around 3500 BC. Water clocks used the inflow and outflow of water between bowls to measure time in ancient Babylon, Egypt and Persia around 1600 BC. Candle clocks measured time as the wax melted past notches on the candle. The hourglass was invented in France in the 8th century and was one of the few ways to reliably measure time on ships.

The first mechanical clocks were invented in Europe around 1500 and in 1656 by monks. The pendulum clock was invented by Christiaan Huygens and the earliest versions of pendulum clocks were surprisingly accurate, erring by less than a minute day.

Grandfather clocks in tall cases were made possible by William Clement who developed a "seconds" pendulum that was 39 inches long and vibrated through a small arc.

Mantel or shelf clocks were developed in the mid-18th century and are still traditionally placed on a mantel or shelf in the home. Torsion clocks are those with intricate mechanisms protected by a glass dome, often placed on shelves or mantels for display and to keep time.

The first timepiece compact enough to be carried was the pocket watch by Peter Henlein in Germany in the early 1500s. 1510. In 1868, Patek Philippe created what is thought to be the first wristwatch for Countess Koscowicz of Hungary, and that advancement made timepieces become popular as a piece of functional jewelry.

Where to find old clocks and watches?

Like all antiques, time pieces can be found in antique and vintage stores. Online marketplaces like Etsy and eBay also have scads of time pieces for every era and taste, from sundials and hourglasses to atomic wall clocks and traditional grandfather clocks. Estate sales and auctions often have large and small timekeeping pieces in the items up for sale.

How to care for an old clock or watch?

Older time pieces, while well-made, need to be maintained. Consult with a jeweler or watch repair professional to fix and maintain your antique time piece and keep it in tip-top working shape. Metals should be kept polished to avoid pitting from tarnish. Wood cases should be kept dusted with a barely damp microfiber cloth. If the finish is wax, an occasional re-waxing is in order. If it needs to be oiled, use a citrus oil (lemon or orange) to restore its luster.

How to upcycle an old time piece?

Whether you want to paint your grandfather clock, or you want to repurpose an old watch or time piece, there are ways to keep old treasures even when they no longer function.

Here are some inspirational photos of clocks that have been updated with paint.

You can also find old watch parts re-used and repurposed into one-of-a-kind earrings, necklaces, and more. And old watch faces can be used to create an oversized, whimsical clock.

Whatever you do, take care of your old time pieces. Find ways to keep them ticking and keeping track of time.

Terry Lea and Sherri Brown were flea-market-going friends before they made their shared hobby into a full-fledged business by opening Re-InVintage in Murfreesboro, Tenn. Be sure to check out all their fantastic finds at 3781 Franklin Rd., Murfreesboro, TN.

NOLENSVILLE FEED MILL

The Nolensville Feed Mill is a wonderful destination to visit this spring. The mill is well over 120 years old now, and was once the gathering place for local farmers and the community.

This super fun spot, located at 7280 Nolensville Rd. in Historic Nolensville, Tennessee, is surrounded by small primitive and gift shops in a quaint historic village.

The Feed Mill is a specialty market selling fresh pickles, noodles, candy, flowers, home decor, antiques, local art and so much more.

The Amish House is right next door and sells beautiful Amish-made furniture.

The Feed Mill is known for their chicken salad and makes 400 Lbs a week! So here's an idea, stop in and grab a chicken salad sandwich on fresh Amish Baked bread with home-grown Amish Tomatoes when in season and enjoy the view by the creek.

Old Historic Feed Mill Established 1890 Amish Grocery Store

LOTZ HOUSE EXPANDS, ADDS ANTIQUES & MUSEUM STORE

Featuring a Lifelong Personal Antique Collection from the Estate of the Late Sue Armstrong Thompson

Lotz House has opened the Lotz House Antiques & Museum Store, featuring the antiques and collectibles from the estate of the late Sue Armstrong Thompson, also known as the "One Woman Road Show." The retail store is located next door to the Lotz House on the lower level of 1117 Columbia Avenue, home to Williamson Herald and Southern Exposure.

Lotz House owner J.T. Thompson and son to Sue Thompson said, "We're excited to share Sue's antique collection with others in Franklin who appreciate decorative arts as well as fun finds. I've always called Sue an 'incurable collector,' because I witnessed repeatedly her love for the hunt since I was barely walking in Texas as a child. I was recently surprised to learn she had many hidden storage units throughout Williamson and Marshall Counties housing her abundant collection."

The retail store will feature American Victorian antiques from the 1820s to 1950s, as well as interesting one-of-a-kind items she discovered in her travels and while exploring the world. Wendell

Garrett, the former editor at large at The Magazine Antiques, said about her collection. "It's by far the finest private collection of American Victorian Furniture in the Southeast."

Thompson added, "We've uncovered many furnishings and decorative art pieces, yet still have more to discover in various storage containers. It's like Christmas morning every time I open a box or uncover a piece of furniture that has been sealed or covered for decades in many cases. We'll continue to add to the store's inventory as we begin to sell items and make room for more. We will constantly be adding additional inventory, which will make it a fun experience for shoppers of all ages."

In 1976, Sue Armstrong Thompson moved from her native state in Texas into Mooreland Plantation in Brentwood, Tenn. While there, she was contacted by the Carter House Association to host hospitality dinner and tea parties to encourage docents for the historic site. In 1979, she and her family moved to Longview Mansion on Caldwell Lane in Nashville, a beautiful backdrop for her antique collection. For more than 50 years Thompson appraised antiques throughout the south, and was often accompanied by her son J.T. Thompson who owns and manages the Lotz House Antiques & Museum Store. Lotz House guests loved visiting with Sue when she volunteered at the museum, because she had many great stories to share. Sue was also a sales representative for the Busy Bee Trader for many years for the Lewisburg area.

Antique appraisals are also offered. For more information call 615-790-7190 or visit www.LotzHouse.com.

The Lotz House has been on the National Historic Register since 1976, and is located in historic Franklin, Tennessee at 1111 Columbia Avenue. It's at ground zero of the Battle of Franklin, which was held on Nov. 30, 1864. The house is open Monday-Thursday, 10-4 and Sunday 11-4.

SPRING THINGS IN FRANKLIN COUNTY, TENNESSEE

By Diana Lamb, Winchester, Tennessee

There's not many places more beautiful than Franklin County in the Spring! Or places with as many things to do. This area offers boating and fishing on Tim's Ford Park and Lake, a great 9-hole golf course at Scenic View and a professional grade golf course designed by Jack Nicholas. Hiking and horseback riding can be found at The Walls of Jericho, Bridal Veil Falls, Shakerag Hollow, Boiling Fork, Natural Bridge, Trail of Tears, and other great areas! Even caving!

Franklin County has three museums to visit: Cowan Railroad Museum, open May through October, Old Jail Museum in Winchester, and Falls Mill in Belvidere, also open during summer months. Check out the campus at University of The South at Sewanee, a world-renowned liberal arts and sciences college founded in 1857. The buildings will remind you of what Hogwarts might look like!

You will find great shopping in this area. We have several new businesses and restaurants around the Winchester Square, in Decherd proper, in Sewanee and Monteagle, in Estill Springs, and Belvidere and Cowan. Be sure to visit Rise and Shine Country Pickings when you're in Decherd, and check out Bennett's Pharmacy while you're in the area. Their original soda fountain has the specialty drink Bloody Marty, delicious chicken salad and other dishes. Mae's Variety in Estill Springs is always getting in new items, and Mooney's starts getting local produce and bringing out greenhouse plants this time of year.

The Artisan Depot Gallery and Gift Shop in Cowan has a lot coming up in the next few months, starting with the current shows now up in the Gallery - Secrets Of The Garden from our Garden volunteers is a fantastic show. We have two installations in the Student Gallery - ARTS INSIDE - This unique program uses art as a tool of expression, healing and connection for incarcerated people and their families in Grundy, Franklin and Maury counties. For more information check out artsinsideton on Facebook, and artsinside.org. Also a student show for Franklin County schools is up. The Gallery is currently taking art for our Silent Auction to support our scholarship program. Art is accepted until the end of April, and then the auction begins. Some items may be offered online, but you do need to go to the Gallery to check out the art offered and make bids! Location is 204 E. Cumberland St. in Cowan, and will begin in May and run into early June. Go to Artisan Depot Gallery and Gift Shop on Facebook for information on these and other upcoming events. As you fling yourself into Spring, be sure to come check out Franklin County's many Spring Things!

SECOND EXPANSION AT SHOP ON MAIN IN OOLTEWAH

By Maxine B Jones, Ocoee, Tennessee

Shop on Main, located at 5722 Main Street in Ooltewah, Tenn., just celebrated the opening of their second expansion since owner Deanna Hancock opened her store in October 2021. It would take numerous pages to describe this beautiful shop, and all that it now has available. Deanna has an eye for unique and lovely furniture and decor, and her ability to stage is several notches above the average decorator. She stages with a touch of elegance and charm, and every space has a warmth and coziness that is inviting and welcoming.

This second expansion at Shop on Main now gives customers 7,500 square feet to find something to take home, and add some character and warmth to your own space. This last expansion included 2,500 square feet. If all goes as planned, there will be another 2,500 more opening by the end of this year, giving them a little over 12,000 square feet full of quaint upscale antiques, vintage and home decor and gifts. There is something for everyone in Shop on Main, whether it be fine antique furniture, upscale vintage accessories and decor such as elegant lighting, colorful pottery, china, beautiful pillows, unique and upscale vases and glass art, or painted and re-purposed selections in different booths/shops.

With this last expansion, Deanna has 20-plus vendors who carry a wide variety of items, including farm decor, old store collectibles, vintage kitchen furniture and utilities. There's beautiful florals and greenery, small tables, excellent small cabinets to use bedside or in that special nook; there's vintage trays, striking artwork, warm animal illustrations on trays and stone and glass bunnies. If you love to accessorize for the season, hurry to Shop on Main for wonderful selections for Easter and spring decor. There's rabbits and birds in cozy natural settings just waiting on you to find them.

Speaking of Easter, be sure to check out the gorgeous apparel in the boutique areas of Shop on Main. There's something for the little ones in Spotted Fawn Baby Boutique and several boutique areas for mothers. Some of the different shops located inside Shop on Main are Sweet Briar, Paige & Co., Polished Pottery, D & E Decor, JNK Farms, All Interiors, LLC., Charming Comforts, The Nook, Junktiques, Ivy Market, Serenity, Let's Bee Social, Idgy's Antiques, and T & T Treasures. Don't miss the paintings by Doris C Palmer and florals in Moss Pillows; enjoy the lovely jewelry, tops and hats in Ci Ci's. There's some delightful selections of jewelry in LJB shop, as well as tops, jeans and jackets. There's more vendors moving in, so browse every space. Deanna said she could not move, stage and keep it so organized if not for the men in her life who always step up and help with loading, unloading, building and preparing the expansions. She appreciates all of them, and especially her son, TJ, who you will often find taking care of the store while she takes a short break.

The Hancocks thank all of you for helping make their shop successful, and invite everyone to check out the new vendors shops and all the great items that have been added. Enjoy the photos and visit Shop on Main soon. Check out her Facebook page for special upcoming events or sales, and let Deanna know you read about Shop on Main in the Busy Bee Trader.

GRIT AND GRACE SPRING MARKET

Grit & Grace Market, located downtown Cleveland, Tenn., in the "Old Woolen Mill" building at 445 Church Street SE, will be holding their Spring Outdoor Market on Saturday, April 29 from 10-4. Seventy outdoor vendors will join 100 indoor shops with a wide variety of items including spring gardening and decor. There will be delicious food and drinks for munching and sipping, as you stroll outdoors or browse indoors. This is a "can't miss" event! Enjoy shopping a nice selection of handmade, vintage, boutique items and gifts in a unique location on the grounds of the Historic Old

Woolen Mill. There will be inflatables for the kids, and it's free to attend with free parking. Grit and Grace Market look forward to seeing you for another great outdoor market event and if you've not visited them before, they invite you to come in and browse all the great indoor shops.

RECIPE: Fluffy Banana Pudding

- 3/4 cup plus 3 tablespoons sugar
- 3 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1/4 teaspoon kosher salt
- 2 large eggs
- 1 large egg yolk
- 2 cups whole milk
- 3 tablespoons unsalted butter, cut into 6 pieces and chilled
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 box vanilla wafers
- 4-6 just ripe bananas (yellow, not brown!)
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 1/2 cups heavy whipping cream

Combine 3/4 cup sugar, cornstarch, and kosher salt in a medium saucepan. Add the eggs and egg yolk and whisk until well combined. Slowly whisk in the milk until well combined. Cook over medium-low heat until thickened and about 175 degrees. Remove from heat and whisk in the butter, one piece at a time. Add vanilla and whisk to combine. Use a spatula to scrape into a bowl. Press wax or parchment paper down over the surface and refrigerate until completely chilled.

Slice the bananas into 1/4 inch slices. Toss with the lemon juice in a small bowl and set aside. Using an electric mixer, whip the cream with the remaining sugar until it reaches soft peaks.

Carefully fold 2/3 of the whipped cream into the chilled pudding until light and fluffy.

Place a small amount of the pudding into the bottom of a medium bowl. Follow with a layer of vanilla wafers and a layer of banana. Top with 1/3 of the pudding. Repeat twice, finishing with a layer of pudding.

Top with remaining whipped cream. Refrigerate until ready to serve.

SPRING SALE AT THE SHOPPES AT HOMESPUN STORES

By Maxine B Jones, Ocoee, Tennessee

If you haven't been to a Spring Sale at The Shoppes at Homespun, you've been missing out! Both locations of The Shoppes at Homespun, 11523 Kingston Pike in Farragut/Knoxville and 1410 Sevierville Rd in Maryville, Tenn., will be celebrating their Spring Sales, Friday-Sunday, April 21-23. There will be tents and tables set up outside of the stores and a 10% discount inside and outside throughout the stores, with many vendors running larger discounts in their booths.

The Shoppes at Homespun, their first and largest location in Farragut/Knoxville at the Village Green Center, has been open approximately 30 years. It has over 60 vendors offering a very diverse selection of new and vintage merchandise including country primitives, antiques, vintage furniture and home decor, garden, collectibles, gifts, and jewelry; always a delightful experience each time you shop. The Maryville store, located in the old Cherokee Lumber building, offers lots of nostalgia with the different angles, beams and structural layout that it is very fitting for this store. They have a versatile selection of wonderful vintage and country primitives, antiques and home decor. They include some very nice seasonal decor, gardening and gift items, that change with trends. This shop will draw you back again and again. During their April Spring Sale weekend, they will serve refreshments on Saturday only, but the sales will continue through Sunday. Don't miss this great weekend of sales, and lots of beautiful merchandise in two great stores!
